SUSTAINABLE JERSEY – "A Better Tomorrow, One Community At A Time": All across New Jersey, hundreds of towns are now working on sustainability programs to help the environment, communities and their bottom lines. Efforts to curb carbon emissions, protect natural resources and reduce waste are happening at the local level. Through the voluntary program, communities are implementing solar power, wind turbine project, rain capture and re-use efforts. Freehold Borough has achieved Sustainable Jersey Bronze Certification in 2019 and continue to work maintaining the certification and implementing other initiatives. Looking at energy efficiency is another part of sustainability.
